

VLAAMSE MEDIA MAATSCHAPPIJ chooses REIBEL/BELPOWER for the installation of its photovoltaic solar station

- VLAAMSE MEDIA MAATSCHAPPIJ, owner of the Flemish television channels VTM, Kanaaltwee, Jim and radio Q Music, acquires its own photovoltaic solar station;
- During the next three months, the station will be built on the roof of its headquarters in Vilvoorde. Station has a nominal power of almost 300 kilowatt/peak;
- In production terms, this would cover to the annual needs of about 66 families;
- The value of the contract with REIBEL/BELPOWER amounts to approximately 1.5 million euro;

Brussels, 13 September 2007. The media group VLAAMSE MEDIA MAATSCHAPPIJ (VMMa), owner of the Flemish television channels VTM, Kanaaltwee, Jim and radio Q Music, granted BELPOWER the contract to build a photovoltaic solar station with a nominal power of 294,84 kilowatt/peak. There is no other photovoltaic station of a similar capacity on the territory of the province of Brabant. In general, this capacity would be sufficient to cover the energy annual needs of 66 families. The positive impact on the environment will probably amount to a reduction of the CO² emission by 100 ton a year. The contract is worth some 1.5 million euro. During the next three months, the station will be built on the roof of the headquarters of the VMMa in Vilvoorde and the media group will handle the future exploitation itself. BELPOWER, the energy branch of S.A. REIBEL N.V., is especially proud to have gained the confidence of VMMa. In spite of the presence of an international competitor, BELPOWER won the contract thanks to its presentation, the quality of the equipment, its know - how and its reputation.

S.A. REIBEL N.V. is a logistics service provider in the widest sense of the word. Its BELPOWER branch wants to become a key player in the production and the commercialization of renewable energy in Europe. In November 2005, the REIBEL share was introduced on the Free Market of Euronext Brussels with an emission price of 3,81 euro.
